Apologetics in Scripture

Jesus' miracles were apologetical signs to confirm his identity and message:

Jesus confirms his authority to forgive sins by healing the paralytic man:

“But that you may know that the Son of Man has authority to forgive sins on earth”— he said to the paralytic, “I say to you, rise, pick up your mat, and go home.” (Mk 2:10-11).

Apologetics in Scripture

Peter pointed to Jesus' miracles as apologetical signs to confirm his identity and message:

“Men of Israel, hear these words: Jesus of Nazareth, a man attested to you by God with mighty works and wonders and signs which God did through him in your midst, as you yourselves know—this Jesus, delivered up according to the definite plan and foreknowledge of God, you crucified and killed by the hands of lawless men. ²⁴ But God raised him up, having loosed the pangs of death, because it was not possible for him to be held by it.” (Acts 2:22-25)

Apologetics in Scripture

1 Peter 3:15: “Always be prepared to make a defense (apologian; apologia) to anyone who calls you to account for the hope that is in you yet do it with gentleness and reverence”.

Apologetics in Scripture

2 Corinthians 10:5: “We destroy arguments and every proud obstacle to the knowledge of God, and take every thought captive to obey Christ ...”

Apologetics in Scripture

Philippians 1:7: “It is right for me to feel this way about you all, because I hold you in my heart, for you are all partakers with me of grace, both in my imprisonment and in the defense (apologia) and confirmation of the gospel”.

Apologetics in Scripture

Paul preached to pagans in Athens, at the Areopagus (Mars Hill). He quoted pagan poets to help make his case that the God of Jesus Christ was the “unknown god” to whom the Athenians had dedicated a statue.

Apologetics

Believing, Thinking, and Storytelling

Apologetics

Believing, Thinking, and Storytelling

To one who has faith, no explanation is necessary. To one without faith, no explanation is possible.

Believing has to do with faith

What does it mean to believe something or someone?

Thinking has to do with reason

What does it mean to think about something?

Apologetics

Believing, Thinking, and Storytelling

Stories are narratives

How do you understand the idea of “story”?

Believing and Thinking

Faith and Reasonableness

Believing and Thinking

Faith and Reasonableness

- The Catholic view: faith and reason are different but authentic faith is reasonable, even though some Catholic beliefs are beyond human reason's power to know, apart from God disclosing them (revelation).

Believing and Thinking

Faith and Reasonableness

- Faith and Reason are like two wings that allow the mind to soar (Pope St John Paul II; encyclical Fides et Ratio)

Believing and Thinking

Faith and Reasonableness

- Faith is the (graced) act (or virtue) by which we believe God and what he reveals on the authority of God who reveals.

Believing and Thinking

Faith and Reasonableness

- Reason is the power of the mind to know truth, either from perceiving a thing as self-evidently true, or through experience, or from inference.

Believing and Thinking

Faith and Reasonableness

Faith believes on the basis of what God reveals.

Reason knows on the basis of what the divinely created human mind apprehends, judges, and reasons about.

Believing and Thinking

Faith and Reasonableness

Faith believes on the basis of what God reveals.

Reason knows on the basis of what the divinely created human mind apprehends, judges, and reasons about.

Because faith believes what God says (revelation; the Word of God) and human reason receives from the divine Reason the power to know, faith and reason cannot contradict each other.

Believing and Thinking

Faith and Reasonableness

Faith and Reason have their respective areas of truth, though they also overlap.

Catholic View of Faith and Reason

Reason

(things that the human mind
can know on its own:
philosophical truths, science,
history, how-to, etc)

Faith

(things that the human mind
can affirm based on what God has revealed)

Area of overlap: Things we can know by either faith or reason

Objective and Subjective Paths of Knowing and Believing

Your truth, my truth, and the Truth?

Or, as the Vorlons say: understanding is a three-edged sword: there's your side, the other side, and the truth?

Objective and Subjective Paths of Knowing and Believing

Objective aspect of truth refers to what is the case, regardless of what you or I think is so.

Objective and Subjective Paths of Knowing and Believing

Objective aspect of truth refers to what is the case, regardless of what you or I think is so.

Subjective aspect of truth refers your or my assent regarding what is the case

Objective and Subjective Paths of Knowing and Believing

Objective and Subjective Aspects of Truth apply to our acts of believing and knowing

Objective and Subjective Paths of Knowing and Believing

Objective and Subjective Aspects of Truth apply to our acts of believing and knowing

This is because faith and reason both unite us to the truth

Stories

We are all situated as knowers and believers

Our sense of our story affects what we assume or accept as “what everybody knows” and “what everybody wants or does”

We are all situated as knowers and believers

Our stories are our frameworks of authenticity, worldviews, values systems, sets of desires and aspirations, structures of plausibility, and networks of commitments.

Storytelling

We are all situated as knowers and believers

Our stories are our frameworks of authenticity, worldviews, values systems, sets of desires and aspirations, structures of plausibility, and networks of commitments

Our stories deeply affect what we think is reasonably to believe and what we desire for ourselves and others

Storytelling

Evangelization involves presenting the true, good, and beautiful story of God's love for us in Jesus

Storytelling

How well someone can understand depends in part on how he interprets based on his situation or his sense of his story

Questions, objections, rejections of the gospel are things to which apologetics responds

Thinking and Talking about God and Religion

Our language uses images

Images are part of how we interpret reality and communicate with one another about it

Thinking and Talking about God and Religion

Our language uses images

Images are part of how we interpret reality and communicate with one another about it

God is infinite; our language is drawn from our experience with finite things, so it is hard to speak accurately about God

Many problems in religion and in thinking about God arise from the limits of human language

Thinking and Talking about God and Religion

Much of apologetics is clarifying mistakes due to misusing language about God and religion
